PIER IS DESTROYED

ber 1 for San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Puget Sound and Hawaiian ports, she must have had considerable cargo aboard and the fire may have originated in her hold.

All three of the vessels are well known in Honolulu as they took sugar from Hawaiian ports during the last sugar season. The American was one of the first of the American-Hawaiian steamers to come to these islands to take sugar to the Atlantic seaboard. During her last visit to these islands the American got aground on Kamalo reef, a sand bank that juts out from the Molokai coast. The vessel was going from Honolulu to Kahului to load sugar. She got off the reef without trouble and without sustaining the slightest damage other than a slight dent or so to one of her plates. A careful survey was made of her before she was permitted to load and leave Kahului. She had arrived at New York some weeks ago from Hawaiian ports with about 8,000 tons of sugar. The Nebraskan was formerly on the local run between San Francisco and Honolulu and Kahului, but was taken off during the last season and put on the long run. She was commanded by Captain Weeden who was formerly on the S. S. Nevada which is at present on the local run. Captain Tapley commanded the Arizona and Colcord the American.

Had the damage to the vessels proved serious, it would have had a bad effect on the marketing of the sugar crop next season. There is likely to be a demand for even more tonnage than was had last year, and with two or more big steamers short, the sugar plantations would have been put to much trouble securing bottoms to handle their crops.

C. P. Morse, the general freight agent of the line, received a cablegram however during the morning that contained reassuring information. His cablegram was as follows: "American-Hawaiian S. S. Company's docks at Brooklyn burned. Steamers uninjured."

In all likelihood, however, some freight for Hawaiian consignees was destroyed, but the exact amount can not be determined at this time. No sugar was lost it is thought, for all sugar vessels arriving from Hawaiian ports, discharge at the refinery wharves, either about New York or Philadelphia. The news that the steamers are safe caused the utmost satisfaction in the city today. The vessels are very valuable, the Arizona being worth about $750,000, the American $600,000 and the Nebraskan $500,000.

OUTBREAK OF TRACHOMA

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH IS CALLED FOR THIS AFTERNOON TO CONSIDER THE MATTER—OVER SIXTY CASES ALREADY ISOLATED IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE CITY—ALL RACES AFFECTED.

A serious outbreak among the school children of Honolulu of the eye disease known to science as trachoma is the main cause for a special meeting of the Board of Health which has been called for this afternoon. There are upwards of sixty cases already reported and the children in each case have been sent home from school and have been reported for treatment, but the disease is extremely contagious and the health authorities have no hope of stamping it out save by prompt and vigorous measures.

"Trachoma" is better known as "granular eyelids." It is a disease very common among the poorly nurtured people of different crowded cities, but when once acquired it is just as easily transferred to a person in the best of health. It generally appears on the upper eyelids first, the infected person being bothered by a slight itching which gradually becomes worse and worse. Then the granular formation commences and if the disease is not checked in time the whole inside of the eyelids becomes covered with a growth which hangs down over the eye like a bunch of grapes. It will in time completely destroy the sight. Fortunately there are no cases in the acute stage in Honolulu so far, but the ravages of the disease have only just been detected in time.

There can be no reasonable doubt that the present outbreak here is due entirely to the Japanese. It has been common in Japan for a long time, but recently it has been particularly prevalent there, and many Japanese here have also been found suffering from it. Only by the last Canadian liner from Vancouver there were returned over a dozen Japanese who had booked from here, but were refused a landing by the Canadian quarantine officers on account of their having trachoma. There are several Japanese in the quarantine station here suffering from the disease and many others have been sent back to Japan on the ships that brought them out.

"The prevalence of trachoma among school children in Honolulu was reported to me by Health Officer Pratt last night," said Dr. C. B. Cooper, acting president of the Board of Health this morning. "I took steps at once to make full enquiry into the matter and from what I have learnt I regard it as most serious. There are sixty cases and odd already isolated and these are from every portion of the city. Whites, Hawaiians and Orientals are all affected. Those who have private physicians are having their attention and the others have been ordered to report to the dispensary."

"I called a special meeting of the Board of Health for this afternoon to see what can be done in the matter. The trouble is that we have no money. Even the work in the dispensary is being done by medical men who have volunteered. I called on Governor Carter this morning to see if there was not some available fund, but learned that there was none. As a matter of absolute necessity every school should be visited by a competent medical man at least twice a week and every child inspected while the danger lasts. Cases should be isolated and thoroughly cured before the child afflicted is allowed to mix with its mates again."

"Trachoma may seem a small matter to most people, but the danger to sight attending it is extreme. It is contagious to a degree. One child with the disease could and probably would inoculate dozens in a school where the same towels are used, either by the towel or perhaps in playing when they touch hands and then happen to carry them to their eyes."

"I trust that the Board of Health this afternoon will be able to devise some means to deal with the danger promptly and effectively even though funds are lacking."

WANT TO ADDRESS LEPERS

A letter has been received by the Secretary of the Board of Health on behalf of a number of Home Rule and Democratic candidates for the Senate and the House asking for permits to visit Molokai for the purpose of delivering political addresses to the inmates of the leper settlement. The applicants are James L. Coke and William White, candidates for the Senate, and the following aspirants for the House: G. P. Kaumakao, D. H. Kahaulio, C. L. Kookoo, J. E. Kekipi, George Kauhi and John Richardson.

The application was apparently made under the belief that Judge Dole's recent decision in permitting Candidate Laukae to visit Molokai opened the way for all kinds of political speakers. The decision only affected those running for Federal office, however, and did not touch on Territorial affairs. The matter may be considered at this afternoon's meeting.

FLAG-RAISING WAS LATE TODAY

BOY ORATOR ABSENT FROM HIS SCENE OF DUTIES AND FLAG WAS FORGOTTEN.

The absence of the "Boy Orator" Bernard Kelekolio from the city gave Governor Carter a shock today, not because the governor is particularly devoted to the orator but because a part of the latter's duty was unperformed. It is part of Kelekolio's work every morning to hoist the Stars and Stripes over the government building. A few years ago the hoisting of the flag there and the hauling of it down caused a world wide sensation but the boy orator has been doing the trick every day without experiencing any sensation at all. Yesterday he left on a trip round the island with the Republican candidates for the Senate, on a stumping tour hence it happened that there was no flag flying when Governor Carter reached the building. He had momentary visions of insurrections, alarms and excursions but these were dispelled when he found that Kelekolio was away. The Boy Orator's sub-deputy assistant was ordered to the roof with instructions to hoist the flag at all hazards and in a few minutes the colors were flapping in the wind bidding defiance to all foes.

PANG KAU CASE.

The interminable Pang Kau case of assault and battery is still dragging along in Judge Gear's court. This morning such parts of the time as were not occupied with pleasantries between Attorney Douthitt for the prosecution and Attorney Robertson for the defense were occupied in the production of evidence to support Pang Kau's story that he is being made the victim of a conspiracy. The case is on this afternoon.

HOLLOWAY ON CITIZEN LABOR

A PLAN SUGGESTED FOR AVOIDING CONTROVERSY OVER EMPLOYING ASIATICS.

Superintendent Holloway's report to the Governor contains the following recommendation with reference to the employment of citizen labor on public works:

"The question of the employment of non-citizen labor on Government work is one of considerable importance and has recently been brought into prominence through the newspapers. In certain localities, it is absolutely impossible to secure sufficient citizens to carry out the construction of roads provided for in the Loan Fund. If it is deemed advisable, to employ Asiatics, the Government should benefit by any saving in the cost of the labor, so it seems to me that where there is some doubt as to the contractor being able to secure enough citizens, the best solution of the problem would be:

"First—To ask for tenders with the condition that only citizen labor shall be employed and a statement of time required for the work.

"Second—For the employment of all available citizen labor with permission to make up any deficiency in the supply by the use of non-eligible to become citizen labor, the time necessary to complete the contract also stated.

"It can then be decided whether it is feasible to undertake work with citizens and if not the Territory will profit by any saving in the use of Asiatics."
